New City Officials Sworn In By Clerk

The City of Sedalia now has a full eight-man Council with the swearing in of four new Council members Monday night. The Council now consists of a Republican Mayor in Ralph Walker, one Republican Councilman a hold-over, and seven Democrat members of the Council, three hold-overs and four new members.

The old Council conducted all old business after which it adjourned sine die, and the new Council members were sworn in and took their seats. No new business was brought up.

Property on the northwest area of 12th and Harding was rezoned from R-1 to M-1 on an ordinance which was passed. The property is to be used by Swift and Company for a new plant.

Prior to passing the ordinance a recommendation was read from the Zoning and Planning Commission for the change and was accepted.

The Citizens Traffic Commission made several recommendations. A five-minute parking zone on Lamine for the Moose Club and another in front of the Sedalia Cleaners at 413 South Lamine were established. Also recommended was the replacement of two parking meters in front of the Yellow Cab Co. on Lamine. An ordinance was ordered drawn.

A request of Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Garrison for curb and guttering on Driftwood Drive from Green Wood Lane along both sides of the street was approved.

Councilman R. N. Snavely asked permission to purchase two fog nozzles and two hose clamps for the Fire Department at a cost of $500. It was granted.

Bids were opened for a dump truck for the Sewer and Sanitation Department. They were: Bryant Motor Co., on a Dodge $7,768.71; Leftwich and Lee on an International Harvester truck $5,323.80; Mike O'Connor Chevrolet Co., on a Chevrolet $4,485.00; Thompson and Greer on a Ford for $4,700.10. Bids were also opened for a 20-yard garbage compressor bed by two firms in Kansas City at $5,371 and $5,395; and an Independence firm for $5,495. All bids were referred to the committee to accept the best and lowest bid.

Councilman George Miller

called attention to a misunderstanding that the new sanitary land fill northeast of Sedalia was not in use. The landfill is in use, and only trash being picked up during Clean-Up Week (this week) is being disposed of at fills in Hubbard Park.

On motion of Councilman

Miller the Council approved the purchase of additional and necessary ground for the southwest lagoon, and authorized the Mayor and City Clerk to sign necessary contracts for the purchase.

The Council also approved a motion by Miller to sell to Earl Thomas for $3,000 a sump pump which is presently in storage by the City.

Other ordinances passed were: curb and guttering on Quincy from 11th to 14th street; accepting and approving the General Election and naming the newly-elected officials;

Democratic Governors Remain Idle

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Democratic governors have decided not to tamper with "the events of history" in this explosive political year, agreeing instead to wait and see what happens before announcing preferences in the race for the White House.

They didn't even reach an accord that would have declared advance support for the man their party eventually nominates to run for president.

Even before their 2½ hour political talk Monday, the governors meeting in St. Louis acknowledged they could not possibly agree on a consensus candidate for the Democratic nomination that President Johnson said he would neither seek nor accept.

They matched their forecast. A handful of Democratic governors declared their choices in advance of the conference which drew 17 of the 24 Democratic state executives. There were no new public commitments at that meeting.

Its major product: A statement rejecting any mass attempt by governors to step into the developing race between Sens. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the latter still undecided.

Instead, the governors agreed to wait and watch. Even that wasn't unanimous.

Gov. John Bell Williams of Mississippi abstained from the decision and Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia wasn't present when it was made.

Gov. Richard J. Hughes of New Jersey raised the question of an advance endorsement of the 1968 Democratic ticket, but dropped it when Southern governors objected.

"It appeared that there was no opportunity for unanimity of opinion," Hughes explained. Without unanimity, he said, a governors' pledge to support a party nominee would have been pointless.

Hughes said the governors will confer again late in July during a National Governors' Conference in Cincinnati. He said the governors will be influential in the selection of a nominee but added, "as to whether there will be unanimity of influence, that's doubtful at this time."

Kennedy already has the support of Governors Phil H. Hoff of Vermont and Kenneth H. Curtis of Maine.

Quintuplets Born To Iranian Farmer

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Quintuplets—three boys and two girls—born Saturday to an Iranian farmer and his 35-year-old wife were "doing fine" today in a town accessible only by mule, Tehran newspapers reported.

The babies were reported to have been delivered by a midwife in Lalan, a village near Kaliber in a mountainous region near the Soviet border. A mule team of health officials and newsmen was on its way to Lalan.

The newspaper Ettelaat said the quint's mother Zahra, and her 45-year-old husband, Mohammed, have been married for four years and have two other children.

Study Commission on Housing Submits Its Recommendations

(By D. KELLY SCRUTON)

The first report of the Sedalia Housing Study Commission was read to the City Council Monday night, in which various recommendations were offered. The report was signed by six members of the Commission, Robert Cain, chairman, Homer Marshall, Floyd Priddy, Rev. Donald Frank, George Dugan, Sr., and Harry E. Browder.

The Commission appointed several weeks ago by Mayor Ralph Walker and approved by the City Council has been working and making a study of local conditions. Their report was made for the out-going and in-coming Council.

It reads as follows: "After deliberating our duties as a Housing Study Commission for the City of Sedalia we have made the following observations:

1. The need for some type of remedial housing was established by a survey of professional personnel, Hare and Hare in 1965.

2. The need for some type of remedial housing was further substantiated by a Program Development Survey conducted by the Mid-Missouri Community Action Corporation in 1966, also a survey conducted by the Department of Housing and Urban Development from the Regional Office, Ft. Worth, Texas in 1966.

"It is our opinion that the afore mentioned surveys clearly establish the basic need for some type of program to improve housing facilities in certain localities of the City of Sedalia.

The following Housing Programs were examined by this Commission: (1.) Leased Housing (Instant Housing): Existing houses are utilized in this plan and can be activated without a workable plan. This plan could be put into effect in from two (2) to three (3) months. Approval of a workable program will require a minimum processing time of six (6) months.

(2.) Turn Key Housing: In this plan a local housing authority contracts with a developer to construct the desired number of housing units for sale to the Housing Authority. The Housing Authority may then sell to the tenants at interest rates below conventional charges.

(3.) Conventional Housing: Included in this program is a plan for low-rent housing for families with incomes below average and Senior Citizens Housing to provide for the aged who are without adequate income to provide standard living conditions.

(4.) 221 (D-3). Rent Supplement Housing: In this program a local developer constructs the desired number of units and families with below average income receive supplemental rent assistance, the amount of the supplement depending upon the family income.

US Loses Four More Warplanes

SAIGON (AP) — The air war against North Vietnam cost the United States four more planes Monday, two shot down over the southern panhandle and two lost when they collided in the air, military sources said today.

Five of the fliers were rescued and one was lost.

Military sources suggested the North Vietnamese may be moving more anti-aircraft guns south to counter the increase in American bombing of the panhandle since President Johnson banned raids farther north.

The two planes shot down were Air Force F105s and both were hit near Dong Hoi, about 40 miles north of the demilitarized zone. The U.S. spokesman said anti-aircraft fire around Dong Hoi was extremely heavy and possibly the enemy had been installing new weapons positions in the panhandle area.

Since President Johnson halted U.S. bombing north of the 20th Parallel on April 1,

MoPac Claims Passenger Investments 'Pointless'

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The passenger traffic manager for the Missouri Pacific Railroad told the State Public Service Commission Monday there was no point in investing more money in passenger service on the railroad.

Earl E. Spencer, the manager, said continually declining public demand for passenger service made passenger trains a losing investment.

Missouri Pacific has asked for the right to discontinue its last four passenger trains between St. Louis and Kansas City.

Under questioning, Spencer said the railroad has done nothing since 1966 to attract pas-

Fatally Injured

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Gary Wayne Cartee, 22, of suburban Raytown, Mo., was fatally injured Monday night when his car slammed into a tree less than one block from his home.

Police said Cartee died shortly after being taken to Baptist Memorial Hospital in Kansas City.

As friends and critics vied for attention with shouts, chants and placards—the friends clearly were more numerous—Johnson reviewed peace efforts in an address from the steps of the Hawaiian Palace, seat of the Hawaiian government. These efforts focus at this stage on finding a mutually acceptable preliminary meeting site.

Declaring "precious time is being lost," Johnson said:

"For us, this is not a propaganda exercise. We have sent serious and considered messages aimed at bringing about the earliest possible contact.

"What is needed today is an equally serious reply, reacting to our proposals for neutral sites or offering additional suggestions of neutral capitals where both of us have representatives and communications."

Spokesmen for Central State College at Warrensburg and Lincoln University at Jefferson City protested the road's plan to discontinue its last passenger trains.

Spencer told the PSC he had done nothing to attract passengers from the two schools.

The public hearing is expected to be completed Wednesday.

LBJ Urges Action On Two Fronts

HONOLULU (AP) — President Johnson, pressing Hanoi for an early and serious response to Vietnam peace efforts, is also bearing down on military problems in conferences at the U.S. Pacific command post.

Johnson's schedule today centered on a visit to the hilltop headquarters of Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, the Pacific commander in chief who will retire in July. The President said he wanted to talk about the military situation in Vietnam with Sharp and his designated successor, Adm. John S. McCain.

The President gave North Vietnam a new peace prod Monday, soon after arriving in Honolulu.

CORE Director's Son Shot to Death

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy Innis Jr., 13, son of the associate national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, was shot and killed Monday night while playing outside a Bronx apartment house near his home.

Police arrested David Newborn, 49, a postal clerk who lives in the apartment house, and booked him on a charge of homicide. Newborn, like Innis, is a Negro.

Police said young Innis, his brother, Alexander, 12, and two other boys were running in and out of the building playing when a man leaned out of a second floor window and shouted: "Stop the noise."

Smith-Cotton and Sacred Heart High School students have formed a Student Committee for Teenage Recreation in Sedalia. Officers of the group appeared before the City Council Monday night and asked assistance from the city in obtaining a recreation center.

Roylee Peters, 1816 West Fifth, accompanied officers of the group to the Council and under "good and welfare" took the floor and announced the new organization. He then introduced the officers: Bill Dale, president; Paulette Reistad, vice-president; Mary Talbot, secretary; and Janet Gonser, treasurer.

Their request came in form of a prepared statement which was read by Dale:

"My name is Bill Dale and I am Chairman of the Student Committee for Teenage Recreation in Sedalia. This committee grew out of the concern expressed by approximately 1,000 members of the student bodies of Smith-Cotton and Sacred Heart High Schools for a Teenage Recreation Center in Sedalia.

"At the present time we are contacting various civic and governmental leaders for advice and support in our endeavors, for we feel that if we had a place to go after school and in the evening hours, this would direct the teenagers of Sedalia toward constructive recreation and away from the listlessness which could eventually lead to juvenile delinquency.

High Praise For Status Of Milk Sanitation Here

A report on the status of milk sanitation in Sedalia was presented to the City Council Monday night by Mayor Ralph Walker, who received the report from the Missouri Division of Health. The report indicated enforcement ratings of above 90 per cent for this area.

The report informed the mayor of the following activities:

"A representative of the Missouri Division of Health accompanied by Raymond Whittall, milk inspector, conducted a milk sanitation survey of Sedalia, Missouri, milk supply on March 20, 21 and 25, 1968. The purpose of this survey is to provide city officials with an overall picture of their milk program and to fulfill provisions of Section 196.958, Revised Statutes of Missouri, which requires an annual survey of milk supplies."

According to the report, two local pasteurization plants and four pasteurization plants located in other cities furnish milk to Sedalia. Local pasteurization plants are supplied raw milk for pasteurization by 42 producer farms in the rural area surrounding Sedalia.

The ratings show the comparison between 1967 and 1968. The first figures are those of 1968 and the second for 1967. They are: producer rating, 90.7 and 90.8; pasteurization plant rating, 96.2 and 93.8; pasteurized milk rating, 93.5 and 92.3; enforcement rating, 91.0 and 90.6.

Missouri Division of Health and Missouri Department of Agriculture regulations require that all grade A milk sources obtain a pasteurized milk rating and an enforcement rating of 90 per cent or above. "As you will note, the local milk sources and all other reported milk sources must have obtained this status," the report stated.

"Mr. Whittall should be praised for the excellent job he has accomplished in the milk sanitation program. His interest and leadership have enabled the local milk suppliers to obtain an approved rating."

"The adoption of the 1965 Grade A Pasteurized Milk Ordinance has provided the necessary tools with which he can accomplish this goal. It recommends that the city officials continue to give their full support to Mr. Whittall in obtaining a safe and wholesome milk supply for the citizens of Sedalia," Carl Weber, State milk sanitarian, wrote in his report.

Bomb Is Set Off

PARIS (AP) — A homemade bomb exploded early today in front of the American Legion headquarters in Paris. It caused only minor damage, shattering the glass in the front door.

A recent survey taken at both high schools provides the following comments:

1. "I'd like to have a place to go after school where we could dance, get a Coke or just sit around and talk."

2. "I think a place to hold dances where we have adult supervision instead of police checks is a good idea."

3. "A lot of teenagers like to play ping pong and pool and I feel sure that they would support a center."

4. "Teenagers like to have a place they can call their own."

Note Rise In Building Rate Here

During the first quarter of 1968 building permits issued by W. W. Garrison, city building inspector, increased by seven over the same period in 1967. The estimated construction costs for 1968 increased $445,155, more than twice the 1967 figure.

Garrison's quarterly report shows 44 permits issued against 37; total fees collected being $947 against $487 the previous first quarter; and the estimated costs being $886,130 for 1968 as compared to $440,975 for the comparison quarter in 1967.

Month to month comparison shows January of 1968 the big month, with estimated construction being $446,030 compared with the 1967 figure of $119,150. There were seven permits issued and $454 in fees collected last January against 11 permits and $131 in fees for January of 1967. The big figure for January was industrial building and addition, which was $381,030 this year.

Last February's total of $391,550 compared with $48,925 a year ago. Commercial and addition permits were two, for estimated costs of $205,000, and 12 new home permits for estimated costs of $181,000. There were 19 permits issued against 10 a year ago.

March this year took a slump compared to the same period in 1967. Estimated construction costs are $52,550 against $272,900 in 1967. The addition to the Bothwell Hospital accounted for $181,000 in 1967. There were 16 permits issued, seven for new homes in 1967, while this year there were 18 permits and 14 were residential additions and miscellaneous.

Political Ambitions Are Lacking

By DAVID J. PAINE
Associated Press Writer
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A politician's name in South Africa is more likely to be Van der Merwe than Smith. English-speaking South Africans are outnumbered 5 to 1 in Parliament by Afrikaans-speakers.

English-speaking whites here show little taste for the political game. The descendants of the English pioneers don't have a single national organization of note, political or otherwise, exclusively representing their interests.

In its 51 years as a union and seven years as a republic, South Africa has had seven prime ministers, all Afrikaners.

The terms English-speaking and Afrikaans-speaking are generally used to define a person's ancestry or the language he uses at home. Most South Africans can carry on a conversation in both languages.

South Africa's 3,563,000 whites, the only people in the total population of 18,733,000 who have an active voice in politics, are roughly divided into 60 per cent Afrikaans-speaking and 40 per cent English-speaking. But political representation is nothing like 60-40. The ruling Nationalist party made up almost wholly of Afrikaners, has 126 of 166 seats in the House of Assembly. Two of the 18 Cabinet ministers, Alf Trollop and Frank Waring, are English-speakers.

English-speaking South Africans who venture into politics belong mainly to the United party, an amalgamation of the two language groups which has been out of power 20 years and is steadily losing ground. Of its 39 seats in Parliament 29 are held by English-descended members but it is led by an Afrikaner, Sir De Villiers Graaff.

Even the tiny liberally inclined Progressive party is led by an Afrikaner, Dr. Jan Steytler, although its sole member of Parliament is English-speaking Helen Suzman. The even smaller multiracial Liberal party, led by author Alan Paton is about to go out of existence because of impending legislation outlawing multiracialism in politics.

See Link In Two Diseases

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — There may be a positive link between infectious mononucleosis, widely known as the kissing disease, and a malignant tumor which is quite common in Africa but rare in the United States.

That was the report today by Dr. Julius S. Horoszewicz of Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N.Y.

If the link, a virus, is established definitely, it will be the first time that a virus has been indicted as a cause of cancer-type disease in humans.

The virus has already been shown by other researchers to be associated with infectious mononucleosis, usually not a severe disease that causes fever, chills, general bad feeling fatigue and sometimes headache and chest pain.

Researchers have shown that the virus reacts with protective antibodies from humans who have already had the kissing disease, the Roswell Park report said. The reaction is the same as an infecting virus would produce in a vaccinated person, indirect evidence that the virus causes infectious mononucleosis.

The New York researcher, associated with Dr. James T. Grace Jr., and Dr. Virginia C. Dunkel, gave his report to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology, meeting here.

They found that the same virus associated with infectious mononucleosis is the one often seen under the electron microscope in tissue samples of Burkitt lymphoma, the malignant tumor frequently seen in Africa.

Weapons Key For Discussion

By HENRY S. BRADSHER
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin flies to Pakistan Wednesday for a brief, long-delayed visit that reopens the vexed problem of Soviet weapons in south Asia.

Kosygin also will discuss growing Soviet-Pakistani economic relations with President Mohammed Ayub Khan during his visit to Rawalpindi, Lahore and Karachi. Kosygin's visit will return two visits to the Soviet Union by Ayub Khan, in 1965 and 1967, and follows up Kosygin's six-day visit to India last January.

When Ayub Khan was in Moscow six months ago, he sought to have the Soviet Union curtail its military aid to India, a neighbor that Pakistan has fought in the past and regards as a potential future enemy. This aid includes supersonic, jet fighters, anti-aircraft missiles and submarines.

Soviet leaders told Ayub Khan, however, they felt "India has to be able to defend itself against China," official Pakistani sources said.

That meant continued Soviet arms aid for India. Pakistan fears they are more likely to be used against it than China. Pakistan is particularly worried about Soviet submarines being built by the Soviet Union which India might use to cut the only surface links between widely separated East and West Pakistan.

Soviet leaders also apparently rebuffed Pakistani efforts to get Soviet weapons, needed since U.S. arms supplies were curtailed in 1965. Pakistan began inquiring about Soviet weapons in June 1966, without much encouragement.

Ayub Khan was told last September, the official sources said, that any agreement with Pakistan must be "in broad daylight" — meaning no secret arms deals. The Kremlin has too much invested in friendship with India to risk by arming Pakistan.

Nevertheless, the Soviet Union has in recent years modified its position of all-out support for India in order to woo Pakistan away from Western alliances and to counter the strong Pakistani flirtation with Communist China.

Judge's Golf Game Was 'Interrupted'

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A car went out of control and overturned near the pro shop at a Tulsa golf course just as Municipal Judge Fred M. Mock was finishing the 18th hole. The judge placed the teen-age driver under citizen's arrest for reckless driving. "It's something people in such situations should do more often," he said, adding he would assign another judge to the case.

Amateurs Work

BENTLEY, England (AP) — Hundreds of amateur miners dug free coal after workers building a new portion of highway uncovered a coal seam near Bentley. Diggers carted away tons of coal that would have cost $1.50 for 112 pounds. They dug about eight feet into the seam.

Better to Outnumber Rioters

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the year it has been going into slums to quell riots the Army has found it's better to try to outnumber rioters than to outshoot them.

Only about 15 bullets were used in coping with the recent wave of looting and burning in Washington, according to official reports. The troops did not injure anyone with gunfire. But tear gas was used liberally.

The violence in Washington and scores of other cities was a crucial test of the Army's tactics for coping with civil disorders.

Negroes in more than 100 cities reacted to the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. by some form of disorder and about 40 lives were lost. By comparison, the Newark and Detroit riots last year had a combined toll of 66.

Thus, top officers say the Army feels the recent disorders show the homework the Army has been doing for months has been time well spent.

Swift mobilization of power and restraint in applying it are the keys to stopping disorder in its tracks, officials said.

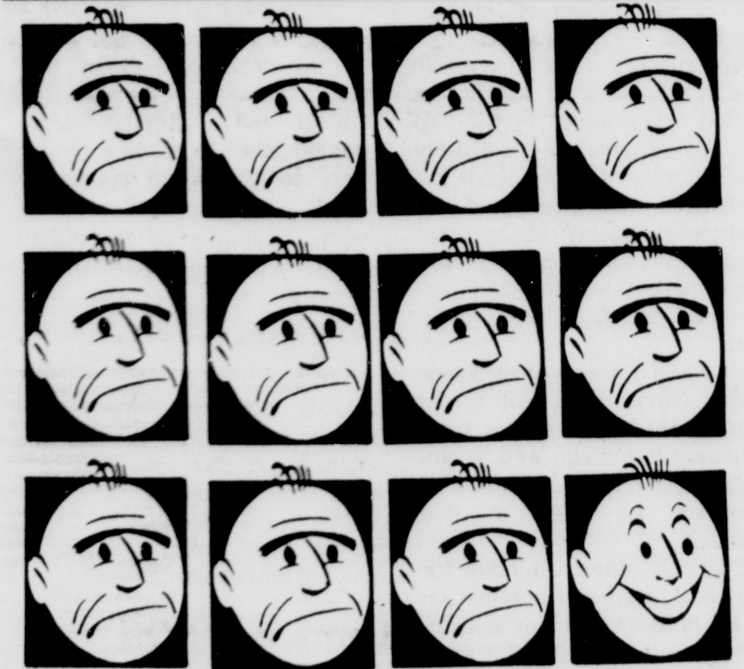

The Army poured more than 26,000 soldiers into Washington, Baltimore, and Chicago, the three sorest spots in the nationwide siege of street violence.

These regulars were backed up by 14,800 National Guardsmen who were "federalized" — called up and added to the regular forces — and some 32,000 other Guardsmen mobilized by their governors.

Across the nation the rule that officials made stick, with few exceptions, was that soldiers and Guardsmen display their weapons but keep them unloaded.

Student Pilot In Suicide Attempt

SURREY, B.C. (AP) — A 38-year-old student pilot made a score of passes in a light plane Monday between the center span of a busy four-lane bridge and the Fraser River 148 feet below.

After buzzing the Port Mann Bridge, part of the Trans-Canada Highway 18 miles east of Vancouver, he landed the rented plane safely on a nearby field. The man held off police for an hour with what police thought was a pistol but turned out to be a gold-colored cigarette case before he was captured. Police said his wrists were slashed and bleeding.

Police identified him as John Hogan of Surrey. He was charged with attempted suicide.

happy with the blues?

Why this overwhelming preference for Blue Cross-Blue Shield among seven out of our 10 largest American companies?

Why, indeed, do more than 383,000 business firms across the country have "Blue Plan" coverage for their employees?

A simple answer is—Blue Cross and Blue Shield are the plans that come through for you. For your employees, certainly. But for you, too. Here are four big ways:

1. Full value for every dues dollar. Blue Cross-Blue Shield keeps less than 8¢ out of every dues dollar for administrative expenses. More than 92¢ of each dollar goes for hospital and medical care for members.

2. You have no claim handling, no paper work. For basic benefits, Blue Cross-Blue Shield automatically handles claim reporting and payment direct with participating doctors and hospitals. No time spent by you in follow-ups. (A recent study for a national employer enrolled in a commercial insurance program showed that it cost the firm $5.50 to handle a single hospital claim!)

3. These plans fit right into your insurance package. We can write the hospital-medical part of any insurance package. We will work with the other carriers in the package. We can even handle the billing for the entire package!

4. Almost infinite variety of benefit combinations. Your group has the freedom to build, tailor, design the program that fits your needs and objectives—to a T.

Let's talk it over!

It will take very little of your time to investigate the benefits, the many extra features, your group could enjoy with Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

And there's no obligation, of course, except to your employees who rely upon you so much to provide them with the very best group health benefits program.

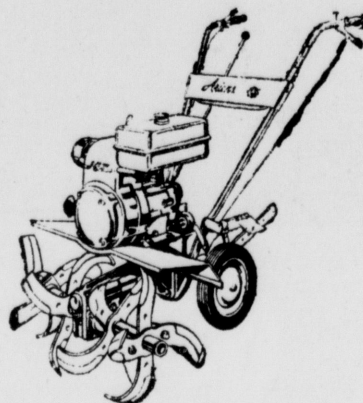

The first step is easy. Simply call Fred Kohnmeyer, LO 1-8700, Extension 304. He will set up an appointment convenient for you. Or, write to him at Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Box 169, Kansas City, Missouri 64141.

Students from the LaMonte High School relax and enjoy their refreshments during an intermission in the first meeting of the course.

Charm, Poise, and Me

By JENNIFER WARD
Society Editor

"You must first know something to talk about, and second know how to talk about it," explained Miss Clemie Dunn, University of Missouri Youth Extension Specialist and statewide representative for clothing, personal development, and grooming.

On April 8, a six-week course, "Charm, Poise, and Me," began at the LaMonte High School, taught by Miss Dunn. This is the first time a course of this kind has been offered in Pettis

County, and it is being sponsored by the University of Missouri Extension Center and LaMonte High School.

Variety of Subjects
During the six-week period, subjects to be discussed will be social and physical poise; the social graces such as the way to talk, walk, sit, and manners; dating techniques on what to do on a date and how to make conversation; sex education, a biological, physical, psychology, and moral study; making and developing friendships, and hair trends and fashions.

Each of the 30 girls participating will serve on a committee and each participant will also have an opportunity to serve on the refreshment committee. This will provide instruction in money management, party planning and serving.

On April 22, Dr. Donald Eldenburg, Sedalia physician, will instruct the sex education course.

Ordell Sholl, superintendent of schools from LaMonte, believed that a program of this type was needed. A questionnaire was sent to the school to measure students' interest, and three students, Pam Carlisle, Carol Jones and program is "teaching students to discipline themselves," Miss Dunn said. "Personal development is making the most out of each element of their being themselves."

Life is not base, students are taught. Instead, they are urged to participate in life and encouraged to read newspapers and magazines and observe more closely the world in which they live.

"When eating in a restaurant with a date, would you sit to the right, sit to the left, or sit across the table?" is a sample of questions students will be required to answer during the course. Topics covered will include church activities, recreation and home life.

Through this brief course Miss Dunn hopes to instill into these young women a confidence in themselves and a well-rounded attitude toward life and responsibilities. The course can only plant basic ideas, but from these ideas Miss Dunn feels that students may begin to form constructive habits.

"It takes ten weeks for a habit to become a part of your life. In our society it is essential to start in making imperative points early," she pointed out.

Club Discusses Fashion Trends

The American Business Women's Association met Tuesday Night at the State Fair Restaurant.

After the dinner, Mrs. Helyn Johnson, president, opened the business meeting. The invocation was given by Mrs. Ruth Cole. Mrs. Helyn Johnson then sang, accompanied by Mrs. Rosalie DeLozier. The vocational talk was given by Mrs. Josephine Cross, concerning her duties with Move Truck Rental System, Inc.

Speaker for the evening, Mrs. George Lockett, from Lockett's Fashions, brought members up to date on "fashion trends".

After the benediction by Mrs. Margaret Bohon, the meeting was dismissed.

Colorful for Toddlers

Spring and summer fashions for toddlers are cuter and more colorful than ever, with emphasis on flowered prints for girls and vertical stripes for boys. They are also easier to keep smooth and spotless because many styles are made of durable press fabrics now treated with a soil release finish. This means that most common juvenile stains will come out during ordinary laundering in soap or detergent suds. Mothers, check labels for these extra service features before buying.

LOOSE FIT

House dresses should be well-cut, well-made and easy to launder. They should fit loosely so that you can move easily while doing your household chores.

THE SUPER WIDE-EYED look is easy to effect when you draw on luscious lines of color with a new eye pencil kit designed for making flowers, freckles and oodles of extra lashes. These kits come in crayon-like boxes, five soft pencils in each, in pastels of pink, blue, silver-violet, green and black. Use them for eyeliner and brows, too. They're great fun.

TAKE IT EASY ON SKIN

Overhandling is a term that cosmeticians use when they describe a skin damaged by improper creaming, cleansing and make-up routines. A woman who scrubs vigorously with hot water and soap, then rinses with icy cold water is overhandling her skin. So is a woman who pummels and pulls at her skin in the mistaken notion that she is massaging it. Broken blood vessels, poor blood circulation, cracking and stiffness, all can be the results of overhandling. Always use care in cleaning, toning and conditioning the skin.

Powder Line

By Jennifer Ward

"Roll doubles once more and you land in jail." "Boardwalk with one hotel will be $2,000 please." "You can't buy that railroad because I own all four." For any Monopoly fans it is easy to tell what game these phrases could be from.

Staying home with games, television or cards all the time isn't advisable, and it seems that young Sedalia housewives and their spouses get more than their share of staying in, due to the lack of good entertainment facilities in the Sedalia area.

Many young married couples haven't the money to drive to the city each weekend or haven't the patience to stay at home on Saturday nights. Pity especially the housewife that stays home all day and has nothing more exciting to look forward to than a night with TV reruns.

Sedalia could use a new entertainment spot or two to provide excitement and stimulate a little life into its citizens. Don't you agree?

Someone has written in requesting some ideas for a bridal tea. Anyone with helpful hints or original ideas on the subject?

Getting rid of stains is a troublesome and improbable task that may become impossible if not cared for immediately. Some general rules for removing stains that could ruin the soft new sheer fabrics for spring are:

Treat the stain while it is fresh; identify the stain and the fiber; test for color change and fabric damage on a sample of cloth before using any stain remover; avoid hot water on unknown stain; work carefully and patiently; use removers carefully; use light, brushing motions, rise well and dry.

Women are notoriously bad when it comes to caring for any car trouble, fixing a flat, or smashing a fender into a parked car at the curb. Of course a lot of it is rumor, probably started by the percentage of male population that concurs a woman is always at fault!

One young man had a good idea that he used on his mother's car. On a large piece of cardboard he wrote "This woman knows nothing about her car and needs your help." She now gets thorough service without saying a word. By the way, this story is true.

Modern Belts are In the Best Places tender and totally feminine. Frothy shirtwaist dresses are gathered into dirndl skirts and pulled neatly together with crunchy leather circles.

Cool linen skimmers are often self-belted just below the waist. And black patent belts dramatize white wool coats.

So, if you want to take a giant step into '68, h'p on the belt band wagon.

Whether they are wide or narrow, buckled, buttoned or sashed, belts are back for the first time in several years.

But remember, to wear them with flair, you have to be in good shape. A little bending and stretching may be in order before you can look your best in the pretty fashions ready for spring and summer.

Students, Police In New Battle

By HANS METZING
Associated Press Writer

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Police battled leftist demonstrators in the streets around the Axel Springer publishing plants in Frankfurt and Munich Monday night as thousands of students tried to prevent distribution of today's newspapers.

More than 150 demonstrators were arrested as student rioting spread to West Germany. Thirty demonstrators were reported seriously injured.

West Berlin was free of student violence Monday for the first time since the attempted assassination there last Thursday of Rudi Dutschke, 28-year-old leader of the Socialist Student Federation, or SDS. But more than 2,000 West Berlin students held a nonviolent demonstration under the watchful eyes of police with water cannon.

Dutschke, hospitalized with three bullet wounds, was reported out of immediate danger. A house painter accused of shooting him, 23-year-old Josef Bachmann, was wounded by the police who captured him and was reported in good condition at the same hospital.

Springer, the biggest newspaper and magazine publisher in continental Europe, has long been a target of leftist students because of his conservative editorial policy. The SDS claims attacks in the Springer papers on Germany's dissatisfied leftist students were an indirect incitement to the attack on Dutschke.

A casualty of Monday's fight at the Springer plant in Munich was Associated Press photographer Klaus Frings. He was in serious condition after being struck on the head by a stone during the fighting.

Four other persons were seriously injured and more than 100 arrested in Munich. Police said they found an incendiary device in a courtyard of the printing plant.

Accidents

A car struck a deer about 10 p.m. Sunday 4½ miles north of H and HH on Highway 65.

According to the Highway Patrol, a 1966 Ford Mustang, driven south on 65 by Robert L. Swanson, 22 W.A.F.B., struck a deer that was standing in the middle of the highway.

The deer was killed, but no one was injured in the car.
The left front and side of the Mustang was damaged.
Trooper Charles Pieper investigated the accident.

Two persons sustained injuries in a car-truck accident at 12:35 p.m. one-tenth mile south of Route B on Highway 65, just in front of Hillcrest Lanes.

According to the Highway Patrol, a 1968 International truck, driven south on Highway 65 by Robert E. Holtzen, 26, Mora, pulled out into the left lane in order to avoid striking a vehicle which suddenly stopped in front of him. The truck and a 1966 Buick, driven north on 65 by Helen McDonald, 40, 2902 Southwest Boulevard, collided.

Mrs. McDonald and her son, Larry McDonald, 18, were taken to Bothwell Hospital in Gillespie's ambulance where Mrs. McDonald was treated for a fractured breast bone and right wrist as well as multiple cuts and bruises to her face. Larry McDonald sustained jaw and shoulder injuries. They were both admitted to the hospital. Holtzen escaped injury in the crash.

Bacon's and Park's wreckers moved the vehicles from the scene.

Cpl. Pete Stohr of the Missouri State Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

The left front of the truck and the left front of the Buick were damaged in the collision.

No injuries were reported in a two-car accident at Fifth and Osage at 3:05 p.m. Monday.

Involved were a 1954 Ford truck, driven south on Osage by Billy L. Bozarth, 35, 321 North Park, and a 1963 Chevrolet, driven south on Osage by George M. Perkins, 33, Route 1.

Damage was to the rear of the truck and the front of the Chevrolet.

A two-car accident occurred in the State Fair Shopping Center parking lot at 4:58 p.m. Monday.

Involved were a 1963 Mercury, driven west on the lot by Hazel A. Hall, 37, 1220 South Ohio, and a 1963 Ford, driven south on the lot by James E. Williams, 48, 1008 East 12th.

No damage was reported in the accident.

Police Report

John W. Hill reported to police that vandals shot a hole in a door glass at 107 South Grand sometime Monday. The hole was apparently made with a pellet gun.

E. M. Franke reported to police that someone took a hub cap, valued at $12, from his car while it was parked in the 600 block of East 13th sometime Monday evening.

Whites Must Listen

BOSTON (AP) — Mayor Kevin H. White says it's time the white community listened "to the bad news" from Negro sections. "Many segments of the white community are being repelled" by the statements of Negro groups, he said. "But I don't think they have a right to be repelled. The white has no inherent right to hear only good news—it's time we heard the bad news."

Telephone Strike Is Almost Certain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only a miracle can avert a nationwide strike of some 200,000 telephone workers next Thursday, says President Joseph A. Beirne of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers.

After a seven-hour meeting with the union's executive board Monday, Beirne said:

"The board is in full agreement that the strike appears inevitable at this point and that our position must be to press hard and unceasingly for the substantial general (wage) increase that our members both need and deserve."

Some 8,000 members of another union, the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, are already on strike against the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. and 14,000 members of Beirne's union are respecting the picket lines and refusing to work.

The New Jersey telephone company said supervisory personnel stayed on the job and there was no interruption of service to its 2.2 million customers when the strike began Monday.

Beirne conceded that a strike by his members would also have little immediate impact on most customers, except for long

Weakest Cousteau Series Yet

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The re-production process of the lumbering green sea turtle, which often travels 1,000 miles to the off-Africa island of Europa to lay its eggs, is awesome and interesting. And interesting too, are the little one-man submarines built to order for Jacques Cousteau and his band of sea-faring explorers.

ABC took them both together in a special program Monday night. The result was the weakest of the Cousteau undersea series to date, but it was still a fascinating and at times a drama-filled hour.

The spawning habits of this huge creature weighing upward of 400 pounds and which lays as many as 500 eggs in a season, are not exactly mysteries. But Cousteau and his underwater photographers were able to follow them around the sea floor as well as up on the beaches as the females struggled over the sand to drop their eggs.

Most interesting portion of the hour was the hatching of the young turtles and their furious struggle to make their way back to the protective sea. The drama was supplied by the hovering and sinister frigate birds who picked off the unprotected young turtles at such a rate that often there is not a single survivor in an original clutch of 100 eggs.

The submarines were interesting additions to the Cousteau underwater equipment, but there was a rather phony drama built up in the series involving what was alleged to be their initial tryouts. The program, third in the series, lacked the magnificent and unusual undersea photography of the others, but even with its shortcomings, it was a superior program.

Later in the evening, "I Spy" on NBC wound up its three-year life as a pleasant gay series, starting two jaunty if highly unlikely secret agents in Robert Culp and Bill Cosby. The wind-up show was a rather silly tale spun out against the sunny background of Acapulco.

As Scott and Kelly, leaning casually against some colorful drying fishnets, faded into the television sunset, there was never a farewell, never a hint that they had just concluded their final caper, engaged in their last bit of giddy dialogue. Oh sure, they'll be around for months in the hot weather reruns, but the episode was the last show made.

Rare Serum Used to Help Save Sight

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A rare serum was flown from St. Louis to Kansas City Monday to help save the sight in a 3-year-old girl's right eye.

The child, Kris Kametz, suffered a reaction to a small-pox vaccination and the reaction affected her eye Sunday. Doctors said such a thing could happen only once in a million times.

The Red Cross started a nationwide search for the serum, vaccinia immune globulin (VIG), and 15 cubic centimeters were located in St. Louis.

Gordon W. Jones Jr., Red Cross chapter manager, said the 15 cubic centimeters were processed from 96 blood donations by people at the Great Lakes Naval Air Station. Only naval personnel with specially controlled smallpox vaccinations could donate blood to make the serum, Jones said.

A strike by the installers would halt work on putting in new telephone equipment around the nation. They are employees of the Western Electric Co., the manufacturing subsidiary of Bell.

Also involved would be Bell System workers in Ohio, Illinois, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Nebraska, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Michigan, Idaho, Indiana, Northern California, Nevada, Washington State and Washington, D.C.

Other Bell System contracts around the nation expire later in April and May, and the strike eventually could embrace all states except Hawaii and Alaska. The executive board of the Communications Workers has already authorized approval of any later strike votes by Bell System units of the union.

accepting and approving the vote of the additional one-mill tax for the Public Library; approving the special bond election for the $1,050,000 Industrial General Obligation Bonds for the new Town and Country Shoe plant.

A resolution was passed authorizing the Mayor and City Clerk to sign necessary papers to obtain assistance from the Department of Housing and Urban Development for planning for Sedalia.

The Council approved a Construction and Management agreement in connection with the building of the Town and Country Shoes, Inc., plant, naming the Austin Company in St. Louis, at a cost of $114,130.

On motion of Councilman Schumaker the Council approved the naming of William H. Hall, Industrial Development Director for Sedalia, and the Industrial Development Department as liaison for the City.

Hall introduced Charles Vogel, of the Austin Company and Henry Mayhall, of Town and Country, who were present at the meeting.

Over $85,000 in bonds and interest coupons which had been paid by the City were approved. They were 250 coupons at $16.88 total $4,220; 65 coupons at $1875, total

$1,218.75 and 65 bonds at $1,000 each of the Trafficway bond issue; and 15 bonds at $1,000 of the general obligation bonds on the Bothwell Hospital.

The resignation of City Counsellor Robert S. "Bob" Gardner was read and accepted by the old Council. Mayor Ralph Walker paid tribute to Gardner for his excellent cooperation and work for the City as Counsellor. Gardner said he was resigning because of his own personal practice had become such he could not spare the time on the City business.

Councilman Walter Jessee, of the Second Ward, who was retiring from the Council told the Council, "I have some regrets on retiring after six years on the Council. I want to thank the Mayor and Council for their cooperation." He pointed out he had served the past four years as Chairman of the Street and Alley Committee, "and I want to pay tribute to a lot of fine people who are employees of the City, and special tribute to two men of my Department, City Engineer Bob Cunningham, and Superintendent of the Department, Vernon Ditton. They know their jobs and have performed well."

"I want to point out the Mayor in his two years has had a fine Council to work with and you have a fine Council coming in, and you will be a big help to these new men along with these older council members."

"Yes I do have regrets after ten years on the City Council, four before and the last six years, also 16 years as a member of the Hospital Board. But approaching the age of 70, it's time to get out and catch up on some fishing. I am proud of a lot of things I think I

Orchestra Members From Horace Mann

A. L. Wilson is principal of Horace Mann and Harold Johnston is instructor of instrumental music.

Select Musicians From Mark Twain

Mark Twain School has announced the following students selected to play in this year's All-School Orchestra Concert on Thursday: violins, Debbie Hopkins, Sharon Wells, Mike Heineman, Kimberly Goldston, and Cathy Main; cello, Katie Schrader and Cynthia White; flute, Laura Lyles and Kay Lukacs; french horn, Danny Gray; clarinet, Spencer Jones and Alicia Bass; alto saxophone, Ricky Craig, Wayne Leicher, and Mike Simon; trumpets, Jimmy Williams and Danny Homan; trombone, John Kindle; drums, Judy Johnson and Danny Metcalfe; piano, Pamela Monsees.

Jack Delph is principal of Mark Twain, and Bob Cummings and Harold Johnston are instructors of instrumental music.

accomplished, and there are a lot of things I probably should have done, but I am most proud of the cooperation between the Mayor and the Council."

Councilman George Dugan, Jr., who served one term, told the Council, "It has been an extreme pleasure to have been on the Council and I gained a lot of fine experience. I am sure the Mayor will now have a full Council and I wish all of you the best of luck."

The Council then adjourned sine die.

Mayor Walker then called all the City officials elected on April 2 to approach the rostrum and City Clerk Ralph Dedrick administered the Oath of Office after which they signed their oaths.

The following were sworn in: Mrs. Opal Hugelman, City Collector; Adam B. Fischer, City Attorney; Judge Lawrence Englund, Police Magistrate; John M. Blue, City Assessor; Mrs. Perry L. Strole, City Treasurer. City Councilmen: First Ward, Jesse "Sonny" Robinson, succeeding James Askren who resigned; Lavern D. Masters, who succeeded Walter Jessee, Second Ward; Robert "Bob" Wells, succeeding Jerry Jones, who resigned in the Third Ward; and in the Fourth Ward, Leo Letourneau, who succeeded George Dugan, Jr.

The Mayor following the roll call made the following statement:

"At this time I would like to express my appreciation to the retiring councilmen, Mr. Jessee and Mr. Dugan, and commend the entire council for the work it has accomplished during the last two years. At the same time I welcome Mr. Robinson, Mr. Masters, Mr. Wells and Mr. Letourneau our newly elected representatives."

"Shortly it will become obvious to the new members that everything said during the recent campaign was not true; that constructive changes come very slowly; that the administration has neither the money nor the authority to do everything that needs to be done for our community."

"The council of the last two years has accomplished a great deal and has done it quietly and unobtrusively because it felt the need to leave politics at the polls and work as a team for the betterment of Sedalia. Nothing could be more commendable and as the new councilmen take office I am sure it will be with the same dignity and awareness of responsibility to the voters of our city. You will find a great many problems waiting for your serious consideration and at a time when our city is on the threshold of a great deal of growth and expansion nothing is more urgent than the continuation of the type of cooperation and hard work exemplified by the members of the last city council."

"The problems that face our city today can only be solved by the nine of us pulling in the same direction and to that end I pledge to each of you my wholehearted support." Mayor Walker concluded.

Mayor Walker then presented the name of Robert "Bob" Fritz, a Democrat, for City Counsellor to succeed Gardner and he was unanimously approved. His salary set by ordinance will be $380 a month.

Following the approval of the appointment of Fritz, Councilman Ray Simons nominated Councilman R. N. "Doc" Snively as Mayor Pro Tem of the Council. Councilman Schumaker seconded the motion and he was unanimously elected.

The following bills were approved by the old council:— General and Administrative $2,442.74; Airport $371.50; Fire $153.28; Police $703.57; Street and Alley $948.15; Sanitation $528.88; Sewer $3,396.56; Public Buildings and Grounds $254.81; Lights and Water $8,167.01; Parking $378.19 a total of $17,344.69, plus Sewer System Account $21,019.97 for a grand total of $38,364.66.

Indian Speaks To Rotary

Miss Sajni Mahbubani, of Calcutta, Bengal, India, a graduate student at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, spoke to members of the Sedalia Rotary Club on Monday noon on her country — its history, customs and problems.

Miss Mahbubani is working toward a masters degree in Education with a program oriented toward secondary school supervision and administration. She received her earlier education from Calcutta Girls High School run by Methodist Missionaries; her BA degree from Calcutta University and her Bachelor of Teaching from Loreto College run by Catholic Nuns. A woman of charm and beauty, Miss Mahbubani is 24 years old and comes from wealthy parentage. Her father operates several Indian businesses.

India a country of more than 500,000,000 people is the largest democratic country in the world, according to Miss Mahbubani. While only three per cent of its people were educated twenty years ago, today some 49 per cent are literate. Some Indian states have compulsory education to age 14 years, while other states do not. Vocational training of young people to fill needed job positions is being stressed throughout India today.

The country is progressing slowly under 5 year planning segments in agriculture, industry and education. Family planning is being undertaken throughout the land to control its population. Because of the many spoken languages it is necessary for leaders to speak at least three or four in order to communicate.

In India the parents choose the mate for their children and it is a rational choice rather than an emotional one and has worked out very well, since parents generally know the needed characteristics of the person to become a mate to their offspring. The divorce rate in India is one per cent and divorces are generally among those of the Christian faith, the speaker stated.

Gradually, India is learning more modern agricultural methods and last year the country produced 100 million tons of food — enough to feed its people this year.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Donald F. Powell, director of international affairs at Central Missouri State College and head of its department of political science. Dr. Powell in introducing the speaker stated she was one of the finest graduate students to ever attend CMSC. The program was arranged by Garland Groom, April program chairman.

Larry Callis and Jake Siragusa were introduced as new members by Harry Walch and Dick Esser. Invocation was given by Don Morton.

President Jake Summers reminded the membership of the Rotary district conference being held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week at Lebanon. Reservations have been made by several Sedalia club members to attend.

of wee footnote in the history of the war out here.

They had been "exchanged" by the Americans to North Vietnam in return for three American pilots released by North Vietnam a month earlier.

And this was the first prisoner exchange between the two warring parties since the hostilities began.

They giggled among themselves, obviously not concerned by any pioneer role they had assumed in the evolving war, and behind them sat their grim shepherd, a North Vietnamese official sent from Hanoi to Laos, where the "exchange" took place.

(The "exchange" was negotiated in Vientiane, Laos, in a rare face-to-face meeting between a U.S. and a North Vietnamese diplomat).

These three young men had been swooped off the sea by the United States Navy in the summer of 1966. The North Viets claimed they were victims of American "piracy", that they were really fishermen; responding claim of the U.S. was that they were sailors of North Vietnam in international waters and probably with mischief on their minds.

In any event, now they were flying uncertainly home on the antique plane which manages to carry passengers and cargo once a week from Cambodia to Laos to North Vietnam. Some diplomats were hopeful this modest beginning might lead to a larger exchange of prisoners.

However, such hopes are dashed promptly when a visiting reporter talks to a minister of the government here.

No one knows why the North Viets released the three American pilots in February of this year. All along, the leaders in Hanoi have declined even to regard the captured American pilots as "prisoners of war" under the rules of the Geneva Convention. Instead, the Northviets refer to them, mechanically, as "war criminals."

Little is known about the living conditions of the captured Americans. One minister here, pressed for information, would only say:

Boy Scout Notes

Jack Lippincott, chairman of the Lake of the Ozarks Council Jamboree Committee, has been advised that a total of 37 Boy Scouts and Explorers from this council will be able to attend the Seventh National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America next year.

Applications are available upon request and can be filled out for any Scout or Explorer who meets the qualifications. The applications are to be sent to this committee for consideration as contingent members, Lippincott said. They may be made by any Scoutmaster or Explorer post advisor to the Scout Service Center.

The National Jamboree — limited to about 40,000 participants — will be held at Farragut State Park, Idaho, July 16-22, 1969.

Lippincott said that all applicants will be interviewed by the Selection Committee in late fall and the names of the approved participants will be announced by Nov. 15.

Boy Scouts who apply must have attained at least the age of 12 on or before Sept. 1, 1968, and be Star Scouts by April 1, 1969, to be eligible, Lippincott said. Explorers must be registered as Scouts and Explorers on or before July 1, 1968, and must meet requirements of camping experience, leadership and Scout crafts.

According to present plans, the contingent from the Lake of the Ozarks Council will travel to Idaho by chartered bus and will visit historic and scenic sites on the trip, which will take about six days each way.

"We can understand the concern in your country for the American pilots. Please be assured they are being treated as best as we can manage in the conditions of war."

Is there any prospect that more American pilots could be exchanged for North Vietnamese captured by the Americans? The response is vague. In the first place, the North Viets do not officially admit any North Vietnamese soldiers are in the south, so, the reporter tries again. These sailors, or fishermen, or whatever you wish to call them, were only three of the 17 captured. These were all North Vietnamese. Everyone agrees on that. Would the Hanoi government exchange the 14 American pilots for the remaining 14 North Viets sailors, or fishermen, or whatever they are, held by the Americans?

Again you get a vague response. "The question is secondary," said the minister. "The important question is to initiate talks, if the United States wishes talks, and then the question of prisoners would be discussed."

Almost as an afterthought, the minister added:

"Really, our wish is to release all the American pilots, give them all back to you, after the two countries sit down and find solutions to the larger questions."

Reports that the American pilots are being mistreated are quickly denied by the North Vietnamese. One gent who should know said the pilots are given a food ration similar to that of the North Vietnamese people. If so, it is not exactly luncheon at the Fontainebleau, but it is a ration adequate enough to sustain health. In fact, you do not see people suffering from malnutrition up in this country.

The food ration ranges from 14 kilograms of cereal a month for office workers to 22 kilograms for laborers. Meat is available once a week. Fresh fish is rationed once a week, and dried fish is available the other days of the week. In season, the vegetables are plentiful. You see tomatoes and carrots and potatoes. Cloth, presumably, is available for the prisoners, and also shoes. Cloth and shoes are in abundant supply here.

Time and again, the United States has proposed through various parties that prisoners be exchanged, that a Red Cross agency be permitted to handle the essential needs of the American pilots in the north, that mail and packages be permitted to be sent through to the pilots. A dimly small trickle of mail has been allowed to pass, but the North Vietnamese appear suspicious of any proposal to establish a "foreign" Red Cross agency in their country, and the three-prisoner exchange is the one small success which has come of the many United States overtures.

Meanwhile, as a gesture, the U.S. has released more than 100 wounded or sick North Vietnamese back to the North. It wasn't an exchange. It was a one-way deal. And it has failed to inspire a gesture from here.

No one knows exactly how many American prisoners are held in the north. More than 200 Americans have been identified as being in detention in North Vietnam, but the actual total is known to be much higher.

Even the precise places of detention are not known. And the North Vietnamese decline to talk of the locations.

Thus, the feeling a visiting reporter acquires is that the North Vietnamese simply are not going to talk about prisoner exchange until talks begin between the two countries. An additional feeling is that the question of prisoner exchange would be one of the first items of any agenda discussed between the U.S. and North Vietnam.

The odds for a bonus sorghum crop are 2 to 1 in your favor with Herban 21-A

Chances are you'll be raising grass and weeds along with sorghum unless you use herbicides this season. The best material on the market for sorghum is the new Herban combination: Herban 21-A, the harder-hitting herbicide that knows when to quit. This new combination herbicide controls a wide variety of grasses and weeds, including tough ones like giant foxtail, pigweed, morningglory, and many others. And with Herban 21-A you run less risk of herbicide build-up in the soil. Herban 21-A is scientifically blended in the correct ratio with special added wetting and suspending agents. So put your money on Herban 21-A for a bonus sorghum crop. The odds are in your favor.

Will It Be 'Lake Stanton'?

Remember the article here April 5 suggesting that the name of Spring Fork Lake be changed to Lake Hudson or Lake Stanton in honor of Stanton Hudson, former Sedalia newspaper publisher who crusaded for public fishing privileges at the reservoir? Also the comment about the zip code and slow mail service to Fort Scott, Kans.?

Stan writes to thank us for our kind remarks about him, and also says that his complaint about delayed receipt of the Sedalia Democrat was made in an effort to better the mail distribution of the newspaper.

"I didn't get Friday's paper containing your kind remarks about me until Monday," Hudson reports. "Fort Scott is 111 miles from Sedalia by Katy railroad, but that doesn't count because the Katy no longer has passenger trains or carries mail. Fort Scott is 138 miles by highway, 149 by the highway most people use. When my son was teenage he hitchhiked between the two towns regularly, seldom requiring more than five hours for the trip. It seems to me outlandish for the post office to take 48 hours or more. Did you ever consider distributing the Democrat to mail subscribers by hitchhikers instead of the P.O.?"

—O—

A reader writes from another town: "I was pleased to see your editorial about my old friend. I think the lake should be called "Lake Stanton" which is more personal, and it's a pretty name, I think."

Well, I believe this fellow has the right selection which must have something to do with phonetics. Hudson, himself, would probably shake his mane and bellow like J. West Goodwin if selection of the name was made because it's a "pretty" one.

Seriously, however, a question is raised—how do you go about changing the name of a public or semi-public place such as the city water department property? It could be done by presidential decree, perhaps, like the time Mr. Johnson dubbed Canaveral and Idlewild, as Cape Kennedy and Kennedy Airport.

But lacking any immediate authority by city council or the water department, a suggestion is made to impress the name on the public by simply referring to the place in conversation or writing as "Lake Stanton."

Some inspired individual between here and the lake might put up on his property a directional sign: "This way to Lake Stanton."

It wouldn't take long to catch on, but we'd still rather have a formal, authoritative change made by the water department and city council followed by a ceremony of enmeshment if it doesn't involve some enmeshment in government legal or bureaucratic webbing with which the public has to contend so much these days.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

For Police Training Under FBI

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The general public doesn't know it, but J. Edgar Hoover has been lobbying effectively on Capitol Hill to put all police training in American cities under the FBI if they get any funds from the federal government.

Under the law, Hoover is forbidden to engage in politics. He is supposed to be under the jurisdiction of the Attorney General and keep aloof from Capitol Hill. Despite this, he has sent FBI agents up to key congressmen to persuade them to give the FBI training jurisdiction over local city police. The "safe streets" bill allocates a certain amount of federal funds to help local law enforcement, and Hoover has demanded that no city get these funds unless the FBI has training authority over its police.

This runs counter to the constitutional right of cities and states to handle their own local problems, and is also opposed by Attorney General Ramsey Clark and many senators. Clark contends the FBI has enough to do without supervising local police training. Many congressmen argue that the United States must not fall into the European pattern of a national police force, similar to the Sûreté Nationale of France or the KGB of Soviet Russia.

The Hoover proposal is also opposed by the International Association of Police Chiefs, which has done an excellent job of correlating police training throughout the United States and Canada. Quinn Tamm, executive director of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, is a former Assistant Director of the FBI who nevertheless has incurred the wrath of J. Edgar Hoover because Tamm wants to keep police training local.

Various states have built up excellent training programs for their police, including California, Michigan, New Jersey and Connecticut. Florida, despite the meddling of Gov. Claude Kirk, who put the Wackenhut Detective Agency in charge of crime, has also made excellent progress.

Florida police are now taught the problems of sociology and race relations through the Florida Institute of Law Enforcement at St. Petersburg Junior College. The FBI, in contrast, has long been an uncredited organization. Only recently have a few Negro agents been admitted.

Leading police chiefs resent the fact that Hoover discriminates against police officials who maintain their independence of the FBI. If they are too independent, they say, Hoover refuses to process their fingerprints or cooperate regarding information on interstate crime. The FBI operates two big computers in Washington which correlate information on stolen guns, stolen autos and wanted persons. This is a very important clearing house of crime information, which does not mean a national police force. However, Hoover has been known to withhold this information from police chiefs whom he considers too independent.

Opposed to Hoover on FBI police training have been some of the top police chiefs of the nation. Supporting him has been Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., a powerful member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, and Rep. Emanuel Celler, the Brooklyn Democrat who heads the House Judiciary Committee.

No LBJ Frown as O'Brien Swings to Kennedy Camp

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)

Each time the retiring postmaster general, Lawrence O'Brien, becomes involved in major change, his uniqueness as an individual and a political figure strikes this capital with fresh force.

As he seeks out some kind of private endeavor which will allow him at the same time to assume the very highest organizing responsibilities for Sen. Robert Kennedy's presidential campaign, O'Brien is proving again that he can move amid Washington's most intense political rivalries with astonishing ease, generating only good will and high praise for himself and his talents.

Contrary to some published reports, he has had no falling out with President Johnson in recent weeks or any other time. Friends say that the President put his arm around O'Brien warmly on the occasion of their official parting, and that Johnson's private, face-to-face praise for his loyalty and service surpassed the things he said in public.

Furthermore, O'Brien was doing yeoman political service for the President right up to the end.

After Kennedy leaped into the race March 16, O'Brien journeyed twice to New York to meet with Arthur Krim, Edwin Weiss and other key presidential supporters to try to salvage some delegate strength for Johnson in Kennedy's home state.

For 10 days during the illness of Johnson's campaign manager, James Rowe, the postmaster general bore the full weight of managing the President's sorely tested 1968 presidential effort. As is well-known, he made a major public appearance for him in the last days of the Wisconsin primary battle.

Had the President stayed in the race and become a declared candidate, O'Brien would ultimately have surfaced as full-time, working manager.

Once the President took himself out, however, O'Brien's departure was a virtual certainty. Bob Kennedy immediately appealed to him to join up, while acknowledging that it would be a "great wrench" for him to yield his prestigious cabinet post. A stream of pleas poured in from others, including Sen. Edward (Ted) Kennedy.

Only two days before O'Brien resigned, Bob Kennedy called again to ask him to meet soon for an urgent discussion of political tactics and related matters. Kennedy-O'Brien talks are now getting under way.

Kennedy's regard for O'Brien's abilities is so high that he was foremost among those urging him to take the Democratic national chairmanship after the party's disastrous defeats of 1966.

Friends say that one day in late 1966, when O'Brien placed a call to Kennedy, the latter came on the telephone and said: "I hope you're speaking to me from the offices of the Democratic National Committee."

Throughout O'Brien's service to Johnson, the two Kennedy brothers have maintained frequent and very warm contact with the postmaster general, while always understanding and respecting his unbroken loyalty to the President.

So far as can be learned, there never has been any substance to reports, now years old, that Bob and Ted looked upon O'Brien's service with the President as somehow disloyal to the memory of the assassinated John F. Kennedy, who once described him as "the best elections man in the business."

High emotions may have led others in the John Kennedy entourage to grumble a bit, but nothing resembling a feud or a falling out ever developed. For example, no harsh words ever passed between O'Brien and Kenneth O'Donnell, another old-time John Kennedy aide, despite many reports of differences.

As if it were not enough to maintain warm and useful bonds with both the President and the Kennedys, O'Brien also has developed and nurtured close ties with Vice President Humphrey, whose presumed 1968 presidential candidacy he will hereafter begin to contest as a top aide to Bob Kennedy.

The O'Brien-Humphrey link was born in the immediate aftermath of Humphrey's crashing 1960 West Virginia primary defeat at John Kennedy's hands. O'Brien was among the most compassionate and understanding in Humphrey's difficult hour, and the vice president has never forgotten it. He already has indicated privately to O'Brien, the latter's associates say, that he will understand his return to the Kennedy fold.

South's three diamond opening in this U.S. Aces practice game was effective in shutting Bobby Wolff and Mike Lawrence out of the bidding. It was just as well that it did because if South had just passed, the best East and West could make would be a part score.

South was unlucky to find a dummy without any trumps and it would have been a cinch for Bobby and Mike to set him three tricks; but our team is trying for perfection in both bidding and defense and they managed to set South a fourth trick.

Bobby made his normal opening lead of the deuce of clubs—fourth best of his longest suit. Mike's king forced South's ace and South played ace and another diamond. Bobby was in with the jack and noted that Mike had played the eight and then the four. This high-low is known as an echo, and a trump echo shows an odd number of trumps, thus Bobby knew his partner still held a trump. He was also sure from the bidding that South wasn't going to show up with the ace of spades, so Bobby led his deuce of that suit. Mike was in with the ace and played jack and another club.

This put Bobby in again and he played his ace of hearts. This gave Mike a chance to make the key play. He dropped his nine of hearts!

Just to keep bridge a simple game, the trump echo is used to show an odd number; the side suit echo either to show strength in the suit or an even number of cards.

Mike couldn't be showing strength. Dummy held the king-queen. He had to be showing an even number and that number had to be four. This meant that South's distribution was 2-1-7-3 and Bobby had a blueprint. He cashed his ace of hearts and led his fourth club. Mike ruffed with the queen of trumps and South was down four.

What's Leisure, Mommy?

Working masses become leisured classes is usually the way it is said. I mean, in the first paragraphs of all those reports published about shorter work weeks, three-day weekends, etc. Every few days a new statistical rendering of the problem is published but, except for the fact that the compilation of these reports must have created an entire new industry, I can't see what good they have accomplished.

What they have done is convince us that we are frittering away our lives and we should be ashamed of ourselves.

Then, too, we must ponder over what novel means of amusement will be offered us in order to use up this leftover time. It has been said that in the future at least one-third of the population will be employed in amusing the other two-thirds.

I'm going to come right out with it. I don't think we have any extra time. Any extra time we could have has been usurped.

Labor-saving devices take up a lot of time, for one thing. Grandmother, after all, could say, "Take care of that towel—it's all you'll get until next Monday!" because everybody knew she couldn't afford to spend more than one day doing the laundry. Since I own an automatic machine, my family thinks this is the Ritz and therefore I get to wash seven days a week.

Also grandma didn't have all the so-called quick-mix foods at hand and on washdays she stirred up a pot of chili or split pea soup. Without remorse she could sit in the porch swing and read her afternoon paper and say, "I've worked like a dog and I have to put my feet up." She wouldn't get away with it today! She'd have to stay in the kitchen and whip up a five-course meal.

More and more men hold second jobs today, given up at one stroke all the leisure time using them by the first job. Other men, of course, merely use up an hour here and there by rushing through dinner in order to paint the house, plant enough shrubs to warrant hiring a full-time gardener and dig a swimming pool for the use of his children. Naturally, HE doesn't have time for a dip.

THE WELL CHILD®

Takes Love and Patience To Toilet-Train Child

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

One mail brings letters from three mothers whose children are not toilet-trained. The youngest is a boy, 2½, who showed signs of being trained at the age of 20 months. Then a baby brother was born and now he is still in diapers. The advent of a baby in a family is often seen by the one who was formerly the baby of the family as a threatened loss of his mother's love. As a result the child may try to revert to babyhood in various ways — thumbsucking, preferring a bottle to drinking from a cup or refusing to be toilet-trained.

With such a child, it is important, first of all, to be patient and not show displeasure with his behavior. Punishment will only make him feel more rejected and thus increase the problem. Second, every effort must be made to show him that your love is all-encompassing and that love for the new baby in no way diminishes love for him. When he is convinced of this he will start acting his age again.

The second mother wonders whether the fact that her daughter, 3, is not toilet-trained might indicate a physical defect. Most children by their third birthday will have learned to recognize the need to go to the toilet and will be able to attend to this function without assistance. There may still be accidents when the child is too absorbed in playing to heed the "call." A physical defect as a cause is so rare that the possibility can be dismissed. It would not appear as an isolated symptom but as a part of a serious nervous or mental disease. As with the younger child, love and patience are the best treatment.

The third child, a boy, 4, was born with spina bifida and associated meningocele — an opening through the skin of the membranes surrounding the spinal cord. This was corrected surgically at the time of birth. It is possible but not likely that this boy's lack of control of his bowel is related to the birth defect. The family doctor would have to determine whether this is so. This mother wants to know what will happen when her son starts to school. I think the disfavor he will meet in the eyes of the children of his own age will cure him overnight.

Pedestrians
Bicycles
Motor scooters
Metal treads
Farm implements
Animals on foot.

Imagine the perplexity of an animal on foot who is confronted by that sign as he enters any interstate or other limited-access highway in the state of Kentucky.

You have to assume that most pedestrians will comprehend what the sign is saying, and that bicycles, motor scooters, metal treads and farm implements seldom appear on a highway unless accompanied by a human being.

But animals on foot—that's different.

Suppose such an animal wants to use a limited-access or interstate highway to, say, visit a friend down the road, or to run an errand, or just to take a stroll.

He sees this sign, and right away he has a problem.

Where does he get a permit? What's the penalty if he gets caught without one? Think of all the publicity!

But the animals of Kentucky—and other states which may have such rules—shouldn't feel too frustrated. Plenty of human beings have trouble digging highway signs, too.

And here's a tip for animals on foot, paw or hoof:

If you do walk on the highway, with permit or without, be very careful. Some of these people on wheels are WILD, baby. WILD!

Mrs William Hurlbut Is New Sorosis President

Mrs. Forrest Drake was elected chairman of the civics department and Mrs. Donald Callis, chairman of the history and literature department.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Kenneth Love, president, with invocation by Miss Mary Hurlbut.

A memorial service was given in memory of Mrs. H. L. Judd and Mrs. A. L. Walter, two members of the club who died during the past year. Mrs. James Giokaris presented Mrs. Jack Herdon, who sang "Beyond the Sunset" with Mrs. Rosalie DeLozier as accompanist. The service was closed with silent prayer.

program, singing "This is My Beloved" and "That Young Girl," with Mrs. DeLozier at the piano. Mrs. Donald Callis was in charge of the musical program.

Mrs. Love introduced Miss Jessie Blair, life member of Sorosis, who served many years as general program chairman. Miss Blair spoke briefly, recalling that when she returned from college after graduating in 1898 she was a little shy about joining Sorosis, but joined the Music Club right away since she was a pupil of Mrs. Helen G. Steele, president. But she soon did join Sorosis and said at that time they provided their own programs. She recalled that Mrs. W. J. Maltby did their work and wrote sparklingly. Also, some were written by "Grandmother Sturges."

The social committee, of which Mrs. Thomas W. Hurley was chairman, was introduced. Tables were decorated by this committee with baskets of spring flowers. Members of the committee were: Mrs. William Mathieson, Mrs. C. Omer West, Mrs. Kenneth Fine, Mrs. William Dugan, Mrs. R. A. Fitzwilliam and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Jr.

Mrs. George Routsong, president of the Helen G. Steele Music Club, which shares the Heard Memorial Club House with Sorosis, was introduced.

Reports were given by the following: Mrs. William Schien, chairman of the Club House Committee, and Mrs. Harvey L. McFarland, treasurer; Mrs. William Hurlbut, vice-president; Mrs. John Ryan, second vice-president; Mrs. Floyd Lively, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Enoch, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jack Shoemaker, treasurer; Mrs. Henry Salveter, auditor.

Reports were given by departmental chairmen, Mrs. John Sneed, Jr., art and drama; Mrs. Karl Berry, civics; Mrs. Carl Yates, Jr., current topics; Mrs. Robert Edmondson, history and literature, given by Mrs. Hurlbut.

Other reports, Mrs. Maunders, yearbook chairman, Mrs. Alvin Heynen, registrar; historian, Mrs. Keith Yount, given by Mrs. Floyd Lively, who told of the scrapbook.

Mrs. William Schien in the report on the Club House told of the gifts, 12 during the year, and one particular gift being a lovely walnut desk which had belonged to Congressman and Mrs. John T. Heard given by Mr. Powell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Powell. The desk that had been in the Club House was then given to the Sedalia Public Library. Mrs. Schien also said the grandfather clock had been repaired and that wrought iron railing would be put around the west entrance.

Mrs. McFarland gave the club house treasures report, Mrs. James McNeil for the investment fund, Mrs. C. E. Messerly, the memorial endowment fund and Mrs. McNeil, Miss Edna Snell, scholarship fund.

Mrs. Robert Johnson reported on the election of officers and the amendments which all were passed.

Mrs. Love thanked Mrs. Fred Bock, custodian, and expressed appreciation to her officers stating she enjoyed her two years as president because of the excellent cooperation.

Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'll make it brief and to the point. My age: 36. Background: Married twice. First marriage to a man twice my age. (I was 16.) My mother pushed me into it because she thought he was rich. I said O.K. because I thought he was kind. We were both wrong. The third time he broke my nose I divorced him.

My second marriage lasted two years. My husband drank vodka martinis for breakfast with beer chasers. He worked for the city and had a fatal accident at work. I'm sure he was smashed on the job, but they paid off nicely and I got a generous settlement.

I bought a small cave three years ago and have been doing very well. The problem: A 19-year-old boy applied for a job four months ago and I hired him. He is handsome, hard-working, and I think we are in love. He is very grown-up for his age and looks a lot older than he is. The Army won't take him because he has a steel plate in his head. He wants to marry me. What do you think? — ANGLE

Dear Angie: The kid has a steel plate in his head. What's YOUR excuse?

A fellow 19 should be looking for a girl 17. If you are smart you'll help him find one. Where's his mother, anyway?

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 13-year-old boy who thinks your advice stinks. Why did you tell that 12-year-old kid he is better off staying in the house practicing the piano, which he hates, than being out in the fresh air playing ball with the gang? Any doctor will tell you that you are wrong. Also this kid's chances of becoming a great ball player are a lot better than his chances of becoming a great piano player because he said in his letter he loves baseball and hates the piano.

I used to think you were on the side of us kids, but now I think you are a crabby old lady. — FORMER FRIEND

Dear Former: I doubt seriously that the boy is in danger of becoming either a great pianist or a great ball player. That, however, is beside the point. What I had in mind was discipline. Unfortunately, too many kids are allowed to do only what is easy, convenient or pleasant and practicing piano is not usually on the list. Got it straight now, Buddy?

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I were married at a small family wedding. I knew I was pregnant at the time, and figured I was about three months along. As it turned out, I was in my fifth month. We left the city shortly after the wedding and now we live about 600 miles away from our families. My mother knows I am pregnant but she has no idea how pregnant I am.

The baby is due in about two weeks and I am undecided as to whether I should notify our parents when the baby arrives or wait a few months. What is your advice? — INFANTICIPATING

Dear In: Notify your parents when the baby arrives. It is unrealistic to think you can

Allison Continues Hitting Binge With Two Doubles

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Spring has been a little late this year in Minnesota, but a heat wave is on the way.

Big Bob Allison and the torrid Twins are coming home.

DiMaggio's Old No. 5 Is Retired

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe DiMaggio's old No. 5 has been retired for all time at Yankee Stadium. A chunk of the Yankee Clipper's pinstriped uniform hangs in a place of honor with Babe Ruth's No. 3 and Lou Gehrig's No. 4.

But DiMaggio was back in action at the big Stadium Monday afternoon, wearing the Kelly green and Fort Knox gold uniform of the Oakland Athletics. He had the white kangaroo shoes, too, and the familiar No. 5 was on his back.

It wasn't exactly a fit day for a homecoming for an old hero. A Monday afternoon, clouds hanging low and only a few fans (8,579) in the stands.

Joe D. stood near the batting cage, shaking hands with old friends and talking about his new job as executive vice president and coach for the transplanted A's.

"The most heartwarming thing that happened to me," DiMaggio said, "was the way all the old employees come up to me and wished me luck."

How did DiMaggio feel, pulling against the Yanks after all those years on the other side?

"Look, I know all these kids or 90 per cent of them. Mickey is a great guy. He's an old friend, and I hope he plays for years and hits plenty—but not against our club."

Candidates For Olympics Enter Relays

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Two of the nation's top steeplechasers will clash at this week's 43rd annual Kansas Relays.

Chris McCubbins, the Pan American Games champion from Oklahoma State, and Conrad Nightingale, U.S. Track and Field Federation king from Kansas State, top the field for the Saturday race.

Both McCubbins and Nightingale are one year out of collegiate competition and prime candidates for the U.S. Olympic team.

McCubbins broke the national collegiate record with his winning 8:38.2 at the Pan-Am Games in Winnipeg. Nightingale clocked a career low of 8:40 in winning at the U.S.-Italy Spain triangular at Viaraggio, Italy, last summer.

McCubbins is the Kansas Relays defending champion, running 10 seconds off the former record with an 8:46.6 effort last year. He finished 13 seconds ahead of second place John Mason of Fort Hays, Kan., State College.

Nightingale was fourth in the KU test last year, but the ex-Wildcat ace had run a mile two hours earlier in anchoring K-State's distance medley team to a second place finish.

Nightingale was second to McCubbins in the NCAA and the Pan-Am Games, and was second to Pat Traynor of the Air Force in the National AAU championships where McCubbins finished sixth.

S-C Clashes With Jays Tuesday

Smith-Cotton's Varsity Cindersmen meet Jefferson City's fleet Jays here at 4 p.m. Tuesday as the Bengals face their toughest conference foe in a dual meet.

Bolstered by Harry Lewahl, one of the state's top five hurdlers, and possessing the Central Missouri Conference's top 880 man, the Jays will also pose a formidable threat in all sprints, and especially in pole vaulting. Two Jay-vaulters have gone over the twelve-foot mark this season.

Last Thursday the Tigers placed second in a triangular meet with Clinton and Knob Noster, as Clinton's Cardinals once again downed the black and gold cindersmen.

around the freezing mark in Minneapolis-St. Paul Monday night. Allison continued his early-season hitting binge with two doubles and a triple at Baltimore as the unbeaten Twins whipped the Orioles 6-3 for their fifth straight road victory.

Allison led American League hitters with a .550 average and the Twins topped the AL standings as they headed back to Minnesota for Wednesday's home opener against Washington.

The Senators blanked California 7-0 behind Camilo Pascual's six-hit, nine-strikeout pitching and the Oakland A's downed the New York Yankees 6-3 in American League day games. Detroit and Boston were rained out and Cleveland and Chicago were not scheduled.

In the National League, St. Louis edged Atlanta 4-3 in 10 innings. Los Angeles shaded Pittsburgh 3-2 and Houston outlasted the New York Mets 1-0 in a 24-inning marathon.

Allison doubled in the second inning, tripled in the fourth and doubled again in the sixth—giving him eight hits in nine at-bats—before going out in his last two trips to the plate. The former Kansas fullback, who drove in one run and scored two, has gone 11-for-20 over-all, with four doubles, one triple and one homer.

Right-hander Dave Boswell overcame a shaky start and held the Orioles to four hits. Tony Oliva's seventh inning single broke a 3-3 tie and Harmon Killebrew singled home two insurance runs in the ninth.

At Washington, Pascual became the only active American League pitcher to reach the 2,000 strikeout mark when he fanned the Angels' Chuck Hinton in the fourth inning.

The 34-year-old right-hander, who missed the last three weeks of the 1967 season after breaking his left ankle in a game to California, finished the day with a total of 2,007 strikeouts and the 33rd shutout of his career.

Ken McMullen and Sam Bowsen homered for the Senators who wrapped up the victory with a five-run burst in the fifth.

Ramon Webster drilled a triple and homer, driving in three runs, and rookie Reggie Jackson delivered two more with a double and homer as the A's pounded Yankee ace Mel Stottlemyre.

John "Blue Moon" Odom checked New York on five hits until the ninth, when Tom Tresh clipped him for a two-run homer.

Sam Jones Not Ready For Chair

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sam Jones isn't ready for a rocking chair just yet.

The 34-year-old sharpshooting guard of the Boston Celtics may need a breather now and then, but he's as tough as ever in the clutch. If you don't believe it, ask the Philadelphia 76ers.

Philadelphia was all set Monday night to finish off the Celtics in their best of 7 game Eastern final in the National Basketball Association. The 76ers led 3-1 and were at home before a sellout crowd of 15,202. Everything pointed to a Boston fade out.

Something went wrong with the script. Boston won 122-104. Old and tired Sam Jones fired in 37 points.

"When you're down 3-1," said Old Sam after he finished shooting up the 76ers, "You just pull up your socks and get the job done."

Jones connected on 15 of 27 from the field and threw a natural at the foul line—7 for 11. He broke the back of the team he describes as the strongest physically he's ever seen.

So, the series headed back to Boston for the sixth game Wednesday night. A seventh, if necessary is slated for Philadelphia Friday night.

Jones didn't put down the defending champions all by himself. John Havlicek poured in 29 points and handed out 10 assists.

Best Of Seven Teams In Relay

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Zbignew Nowicki and Patrick Cliff of Kenya didn't finish first but they turned out to be the best of the seven teams that completed the gruelling 16th East African Safari Motor Rally.

Peter Huth and Ian Grant off Kenya finished first by 15 minutes Monday, but Nowicki and Cliff won on points.

The winners, both car sales managers, gave Peugeot its third straight victory. Nowicki, who has driven in all 16 safaris, also won in 1963.

Huth and Grant completed the 3,075-mile, four-day grind through the mountains of Kenya, Uganda and Tanzania in a Ford Lotus Cortina that no longer had a clutch and whose windshield was held fast by string.

After Longest Game

A tired but happy Bob Aspromonte relaxes in the dressing room after he hit the ball which ended the longest night ball game in major league history. The game in Houston between the Astros and Mets Monday lasted 24 innings, six hours and six minutes. The Astros won 1-0. (UPI)

Modified Racing Season Is Near

Racing season for modified cars is just "around the corner." In fact, it opens in Central Missouri on Sunday night April 28 at the Sportsman's Speedway in Marshall. This year the Sportsman's track will be offering a $1,500 purse each Sunday night, the best in 16 years of racing, under the sanction of the Central Missouri Racing Association.

The planned program each Sunday night is for eight modified races plus two late model stock car events. According to Jewell W. Kidwell, secretary of the C.M.R.A., there are many new cars this year. Owners and drivers of the various racing cars will be giving them a spring test on Sunday, April 21, at Sportsman's Speedway. Racing fans are invited to watch during the afternoon. No admission charges will be made.

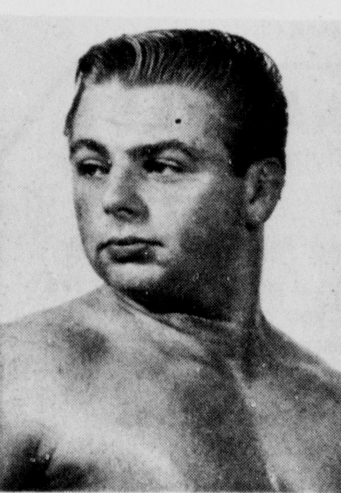

The Marshall track has several new improvements. The infield has been lowered five feet; the inside pole of the track has been pushed out and the track widened. The view of the turns from the stands has been greatly improved for the fans.

At Jefferson City the Capital Speedway will open on Saturday night, April 27, under the sanction of the Capital City Racing Association. There will be $2,000 purse monies each racing night according to information passed on to local drivers.

Woody's Speedway, between Tipton and California on U.S. Highway 50, is slated to be opened on Friday night, May 17th. This track operates independently but has the assistance of both the C.M.R.A. and the C.M.R.A. race drivers.

Numerous improvements have also been made at this track, including better seating facilities.

All Matches Scheduled To Go Until Finish

Bobby Shane

Mark Starr

A wrestling program in which all matches are scheduled to go to a finish indicates action plus tonight at Convention Hall.

Both heavyweights and girl wrestlers will participate in the show, scheduled to get under way at 8:15.

Topping the lineup will be a grudge test between two talented young ring stalwarts—Bobby Shane, the St. Louis Wonder Boy of the pro ranks, and Mark Starr.

The two locked up in a blistering word battle last week that ended up with Shane challenging Starr to a finish clash.

Shane, a tough 222-pounder who much prefers the scientific side of wrestling where the emphasis is upon strength and skill, is expected to abandon his usual strategy to check the bid of the brawling, ambitious Starr.

Another finish affair will match veteran Ronnie Etchison against better Ripper Daniels. Their pairing figures as a test of Etchison's striking power and ring savvy vs. Daniels' crowding

Crowd Not Interested In Maddox

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia got off the plane Monday one step ahead of Bob Goalby. But Maddox is only a governor, and Goalby is Masters champion, so the crowd wasn't interested in the governor.

Goalby was returning to his Belleville, Ill., home, just across the Mississippi River from St. Louis. He had just won the Masters Golf Tournament Sunday when Roberto De Vicenzo signed an incorrect scorecard and blew his tie with Goalby.

Maddox was coming to St. Louis to attend a conference of Democratic governors.

Goalby pocketed a $20,000 check for the victory and could look forward to all the fringe benefits that go with the Masters championship. Some people estimate a golf pro can pick up $1 million for a victory in the Masters.

"I don't think it's really worth that much money," the 38-year-old golfer said. "It might be to a guy like Arnold Palmer, but I doubt it's worth that much to other guys. In any case, I don't know what I'm going to do. I'll just have to wait and see what happens."

"I was elated with the outcome of the Masters, of course, though I'm sorry about what happened to Roberto," Goalby added. "But that's really secondary. I have to look at it from my point of view."

"Players score the wrong score cards every week. It usually doesn't happen to one of the players at the top and never in a tournament as big as the Masters."

"I was paired with Roberto Saturday and he went through his card a lot quicker than I did," the Illinois University graduate recalled. "I'm very careful with my card. He barely looked at his."

"But I don't think the rules should be changed," Goalby contended. "I don't mean that I necessarily agree with all of them, but they make the rules and I play by them."

Major Step To Stanley Cup Money

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Blues, Chicago Black Hawks and Los Angeles Kings can take a major step toward the big money Stanley Cup finals tonight. But the Blues and Philadelphia Flyers already have paid a hefty price for their brawl-filled quarter-final series.

St. Louis, Chicago and Los Angeles each lead 3-2 in games in their best-of-seven series against the Flyers, New York Rangers and Minnesota North Stars, respectively. The Blues and Black Hawks will be at home while the Kings will play on the North Stars' ice.

Victories by the three leaders will set up semifinal series matching St. Louis and Los Angeles in the West Division and the Black Hawks against Montreal in the East. The Canadiens swept Boston 4-0 in their opening round set.

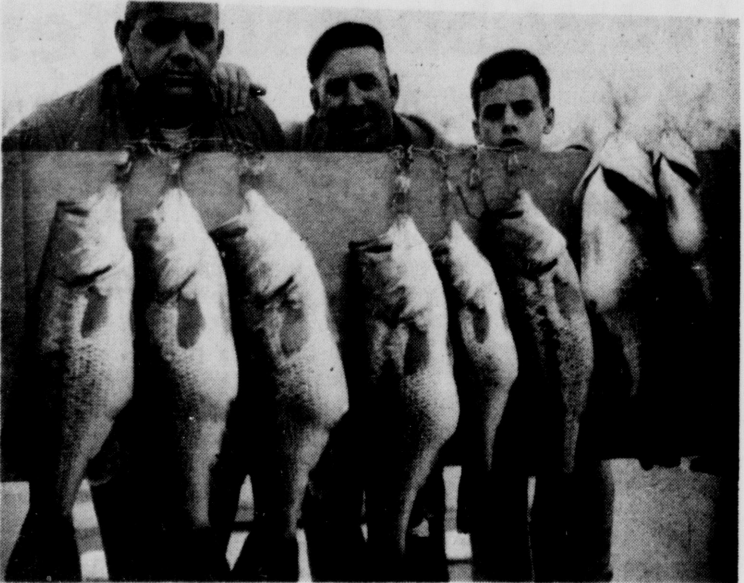

Players and coaches of the Blues and Flyers were fined a total of $3,800 Monday by Clarence Campbell, National Hockey League President, for their part in a brawl during last Saturday's sixth game in Philadelphia. Coach Keith Allen of Philadelphia was assessed $500 and Scotty Bowman, the Blues' skipper, was fined $400. In all, 25 players, 13 on the Blues, and 12 on Philadelphia, were fined amounts ranging from $100 to $275.

Cokes and Ludick In Bout Tonight

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Welterweight champion Curtis Cokes and challenger Willie Ludick of South Africa expect to weigh in at around 146 pounds each for their 15-round title fight tonight.

The fight starts at 9:08 p.m. (CST) at which time television over 28 stations in the nation will start.

There will be no radio coverage.

Quite A Catch

Ray Morris, (center) a former Sedalian now residing at Berryville, Ark., is shown with Dan Fortner (left) and his son Chris (right) of Springfield with a string of big bass caught Friday, April 12 at Table Rock. Morris, the guide, reported they were fishing out of the Highway 13 Boat Dock on Table Rock. Included in the string are a 4-pound two-ounce, 4-pound 11-ounce, 5-pound eight-ounce, 6-pound four-ounce, 6-pound eight-ounce, and a 7-pound two-ounce, all bass. The 4-pound 11-ounce was a nice Kentucky Bass, the top six bass weighing 34 pounds and three ounces. Morris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Morris, 1418 East 13th, in Sedalia, and went into the fishing guiding business 15 years ago.

4-Go Easy at Start SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard

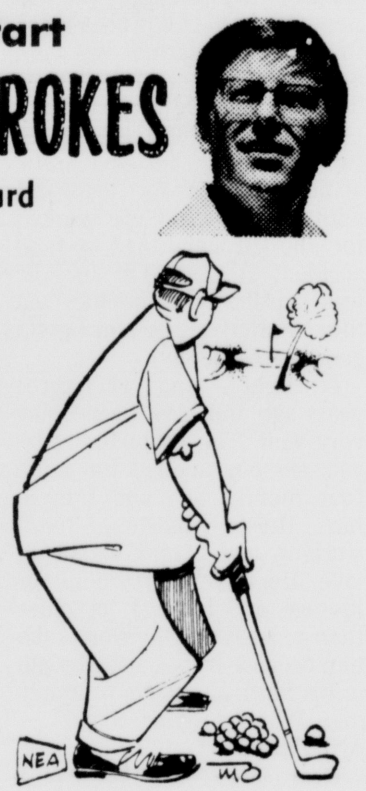

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In December last year, I didn't play a lick of golf. There was one 18-hole round in Louisville from Thanksgiving till Jan. 3. Then I went straight to Palm Springs, four days before the Bing Crosby Invitational. My muscles, because I play all year long and because of my age (28), don't become quite as tight. It doesn't take me long to swing back into shape.

All I have to do is watch my hands. I hit balls in the morning, played a few holes and hit balls in the afternoon. Four days, and I was starting to shape up.

Of course, my legs are in good condition and my wind, because of the walking, I do some situps and things like that but not nearly as much as I should.

I mentioned my routine to illustrate the gradual approach. Start the first day you're out playing golf with a wedge or a nine-iron. Something short. If you feel you should be hitting 110 yards with a nine-iron, try hitting it 90 yards with 50 or 60 balls to get the muscles stretched. Don't hit too many balls the first day or two. Hit 50 balls next with an eight-iron and forget it.

The sun's out and your appetite's whetted, but you'll rue the day you go out and hit 200 or 300 the first day.

Even I have to watch my step because my hands are tender. There's no set rule for work progression with your clubs. But if you start on a Monday, by the following Sunday you should be ready to attack the course.

Pro Boxing League Plans Are Unfolded

CHICAGO (AP) — Plans to form a professional boxing league with fighters getting group insurance, pensions and other benefits were unfolded Monday.

Franchises in eight cities including Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Boston, Louisville, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Washington, D.C., were announced by sports commentator Jack Drees.

Groups are working in New York, Philadelphia, Atlanta and Miami to become members, revealed Drees, one of the owners of the Chicago franchise.

The organization will be known as the International Boxing League, Inc., and hopes to begin operations this fall.

Boxers will be placed under an annual contract ranging from $8,000 to $15,000, Drees said. "There will be no managers. The contract will be owned by the team for which he competes. Group insurance, pensions plans and other benefits are included."

Lemon Juice Prevents Fruit Stains on Hands

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Brown-stained cuticles, nails and hands can be prevented after peeling apples, pears, peaches, etc., if the hands are washed in cold water with a tablespoon or two of bottled lemon juice poured in the palm of the hand. Wash hands thoroughly, taking care to work the juice around and under the nails, and no one will know you have been peeling fruit. I always keep a bottle of real lemon juice by the sink just for that purpose.—MRS. N. C. R.

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I cannot get those stubborn streaks and smudges off of my copper-finished refrigerator. I do hope someone can tell me how to really clean it.—DONNA

DEAR POLLY—Don't throw away those facial tissue boxes with oval cutouts in the top. Put them in the car for the kids to use for holding milk shakes when you stop at a drive-in. Keeps them from turning it over and leaves their hands free to hold their hamburgers.—MRS. L. C.

DEAR POLLY—Do tell Fran that when I wanted to make flowers with sea shells I bought an instruction book with directions for making flowers for jewelry, pictures, plaques, and so on. Most hobby shops stock such books and her library may have one. There are many sizes and kinds of shells and the type has some bearing on what can be made with them. I found that a lot of shell work is more attractive if painted with clear or pearl nail polish and it is less expensive than the pearl paint and lacquers made for this purpose. The following is an easy way to make flowers with small cup shells:

On a glass, about 7-x-9 inches, place a bit of fast-drying household glue. With tweezers place two small cup shells with the hinge ends up and then place one shell at a time around this center until a small rose is formed. Then make another beside the first and so on. When dry they can be lifted off the glass with a razor blade and then used to decorate anything you like. There are so many pretty things made by the average shell crafter and one can find this to be an easy and rewarding hobby.—MRS. M. G.

Club Successful In Subpoena Try

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Athletic Club has been successful in its attempt to quash a subpoena of its records by the City Commission on Human Rights.

Justice Hyman Korn of the Manhattan Supreme Court ruled Monday that the NYAC cannot be compelled to open its membership records to the commission.

The commission launched an investigation of the club after the NYAC track meet of Feb. 16 in Madison Square Garden. The meet was boycotted by many Negro athletes and picketed for its alleged exclusion of Negroes from membership.
